2003 Annual Report

May 2004

Louisville Metro Criminal Justice Commission

*514 West Liberty Street, Suite 106
Louisville, Kentucky 40202
(502) 574-5088*

To Our Readers

We are pleased to introduce the 2003 Annual Report that documents the broad scope of Commission activity over the past year. It is the Commission's first annual report under the auspices of the Louisville Metro Government.

In 2001, our community voted to merge the City of Louisville and Jefferson County Governments. This new entity, Louisville-Jefferson County Metro Government became official on January 6, 2003, with Jerry E. Abramson sworn in as its first Mayor. The population for the new city is 693,604 (2000 census), which makes it the largest city in Kentucky and the 16th largest in America.

This year, the Louisville-Jefferson County Crime Commission went through many changes, including a change in name, to become the Louisville Metro Criminal Justice Commission. The agency became a part of the Louisville Metro Public Protection Cabinet, along with Louisville Fire and Rescue, Jefferson County Emergency Medical Services, Emergency Management Agency, Metro Corrections, and the Metro Youth Detention Center.

The Commission continued its efforts to improve and enhance the overall operation of the local criminal justice system, while expanding its mission to meet the challenges associated with its new role of providing support to the public safety and Homeland Security disciplines. This report illustrates the Commission's dual roles of criminal justice and public safety activities during the year. Our expanded role included additional public safety and Homeland Security funding opportunities, enabling the Commission to apply for and receive over $12 million for our community.

I would like to express my appreciation to members of the Criminal Justice Commission Board, the staff, and all criminal justice, public safety, and other governmental representatives who contributed time and energy to the work of the Commission.

We look forward to our future efforts to improve the operation of our local justice system and with the increased emphasis on Homeland Security, the Commission will continue to secure funding opportunities and assist in collaborative efforts with our local public protection entities to make our community a safer place in which to live.

Judge Kathleen Voor Montano
Chair

MISSION - To improve the administration of justice through planning, research, and system-wide coordination of criminal justice initiatives.

The general purpose and function of the Louisville Metro Criminal Justice Commission as delineated in the Louisville-Jefferson County Metro Government Code of Ordinances, Title III, Chapter 32.730 includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. To collect and analyze data on the incidence and nature of crime in this community and assess the impact of criminal activities upon the citizens and resources of the community.
2. To evaluate the capacity of criminal justice and public safety agencies through a careful study of existing laws, practices, and institutions, to recognize their areas of strength and weakness, and to formulate proposals to maintain the former and correct the latter.
3. To make and publish, from time to time, meaningful, documented, factual recommendations as will be of assistance to all levels and branches of government in meeting its responsibilities in the area of criminal justice, public safety and crime prevention.
4. To responsibly stimulate community interest in the problems of criminal justice, public safety and crime prevention.
5. To develop and recommend to the proper criminal justice and public safety authorities programs to enhance public safety, and, when possible, to secure and administer state or federal funds for specific projects.
6. To recognize the authority and responsibility of criminal justice and public safety agencies as the proper areas of administration.

HISTORY - Established in December 1967, the Louisville Metro Criminal Justice Commission has been in continuous operation for more than 36 years, making it one of the oldest criminal justice planning agencies in the country.

The Commission is responsible for criminal justice and public safety planning, research, and system-wide coordination and collaboration. The Criminal Justice Commission is a 32-member Board comprised of key local, state, and federal criminal justice and public safety representatives, Metro government officials, as well as citizens representing the Community.

The benefits of effective planning are numerous and include improvements in coordination and cooperation; a multidisciplinary analysis of criminal justice and public safety issues, programs, and services; and an evaluation of the overall quality of justice. In addition, comprehensive planning provides more effective allocation of resources, the establishment of clear goals, objectives, and priorities, and ultimately results in enhanced service and increased public confidence in the system. Through its planning and coordination role, the Commission Board and staff attempt to support the local system's ability to administer justice and public safety in a cost-effective, equitable, and efficient manner.

Most importantly, the Commission has provided the community with an impartial forum for discussing pressing issues, most of which require a systemic and coordinated approach to effect change. Coordinated approaches cannot occur without this neutral forum that allows agencies to work together to create solutions. These solutions are formulated into policy decisions that complement the systemic efforts of the whole.

"The Louisville Metro Criminal Justice Commission provides critical staff and research support to the criminal justice system in our community," said Mayor Jerry Abramson. "It's important that the commission's name represents the scope of the important work performed."

New Project Updates

As a member of the Louisville Metro Public Protection Cabinet, the Criminal Justice Commission was given new responsibilities and its mission was expanded to “public safety” coordination and facilitation efforts. Staff support and assistance with all of these new, non-traditional criminal justice activities, are reflected in the New Project Updates below. Acknowledging and building upon the Commission’s neutrality and exemplary history of facilitating successful projects, Mayor Abramson charged the Criminal Justice Commission with being the central point of contact and coordination for all Homeland Security funding for Louisville Metro Government.

Throughout 2003, staff embraced this new mission and has brought about a higher level of cooperation, coordination and information sharing among local, state, and federal public safety agencies and organizations. This positive synergy has resulted in local government becoming the recipient of an $8 million Community Oriented Policing (COPs) Interoperability grant to aid in the implementation of MetroSafe. Additionally, local governmental leaders have received word that they will be receiving in 2004, $3 million in Critical Infrastructure Protection funds and $8.9 million Urban Area Security Initiative funds from the Office of Domestic Preparedness, Department of Homeland Security.

METROSAFE - The primary goal of this project is to increase and/or enable the ability of all Public Safety agencies within Louisville Metro and surrounding jurisdictions within Jefferson County to talk across disciplines and jurisdictions via radio communications systems and to exchange voice with one another on demand, in real time, when needed. A secondary goal is to create a communications network gateway for public safety as well as public service entities to interconnect to surrounding counties and State and federal agencies. Funding from this $8 million COPs Interoperability grant will be utilized to develop an intermediate solution to our community’s interoperability needs and lay the foundation for our multi-year, long-term goal of creating “MetroSafe” a consolidated communications and emergency operations center allowing the co-location of communications capabilities (dispatch and call taking) for police, fire, emergency medical services, and other local governmental entities.

METROSTAT is a leadership process facilitated by the Criminal Justice Commission in partnership within the Cabinet for Public Protection. The goal of MetroStat is to improve the administration and delivery of Public Protection services and improve the quality of life for citizens and guests of Metro Louisville. MetroStat reports, compiled and analyzed by the Commission, monitor the use of agency’s personnel resources as compared to mission-related agency specific services. Applying methods of accurate and timely information, effective tactics, rapid deployment of resources, and relentless assessment and follow up, the leadership of Public Protection agencies meet regularly to address identified problems, and to discuss resources and strategies used to affect positive changes in trends. The Cabinet Secretary oversees the monthly meetings to allow flexibility, reinforce responsibility and accountability, and encourage cross cabinet coordination to produce results. Monthly results are compared to the previous month, same month previous year, year to date averages, and past year to date average to thoroughly review and assess trends, and identify what works or doesn’t work to affect identified problems.

ARSON CONSOLIDATION TASK FORCE – Task group consisting of arson investigators from Louisville Fire and Rescue (LF&R), the Louisville Metro Police Department (LMPD) and representatives from the Suburban Fire Districts met to discuss the best means of delivery of service for the citizens of the community. Technical assistance was received from the U.S. Fire Administration through the TriData Corporation. A management review of the Arson Units of LF&R and LMPD was conducted with TriData releasing its final report of recommendations in September 2003. The report recommended the transitioning of arson services into LF&R.

EMS CONSOLIDATION TASK FORCE - The Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Consolidation Task Force was formed by Mayor Abramson to recommend ways to enhance the delivery of emergency medical services throughout the community, examine existing operations, review national best practices and consider options to increase cost-effectiveness and efficiency. The Task Force was divided into four working subcommittees to study all aspects of EMS service delivery -- Street Operations, Support Services, Specialty Teams/Units and Administrative Issues. Task Force recommendations were submitted to the Mayor. Upon review, it was determined that a third service model would be implemented for emergency services in Louisville Metro.

CITIZENS COMMISSION ON POLICE

ACCOUNTABILITY (CCPA) - In early 2003, Louisville Metro Government created the Citizens Commission on Police Accountability (by Ordinance No. 10, Series 2003). The Commission consists of a Chair and ten members appointed by the Mayor and approved by the Metro Council. The scope of the Commission’s review is the Louisville Metro Police Department (LMPD) investigative process in police shooting cases and incidents involving loss of life due to police action. The Louisville Metro Criminal Justice Commission provides staff support to the Citizens Commission. During 2003 staff assisted the Commission during its 18 hours of training and its thirteen scheduled meetings.

New Project Updates - Continued

CORRECTIONS TRANSITION TEAM - The Corrections Transition Team was formed by the Mayor to review the recommendations of an independent assessment of Metro Corrections performed by Rees & Associates Consulting in May 2003, interview community stakeholders (as well as Corrections employees) for feedback and input, and serve as the search committee for a new director. Stakeholder interviews were conducted in October and November. The search process for a new director began in October with resume solicitation. Candidate interviews are scheduled for early January 2004.

DISPROPORTIONATE MINORITY CONFINEMENT (DMC)

GRANT - Louisville Metro was selected by the Department of Juvenile Justice to receive a grant, in conjunction with the W. Haywood Burns Institute, to address disproportionate minority confinement. An Advisory Board was created and consists of a multi-disciplinary group of partners including representatives from local police, courts, defense, prosecution, juvenile detention, social services, education, advocacy groups, and other key leaders of the juvenile justice system. The Burns Institute model is data-driven focusing specifically on reducing disproportionate minority confinement. The DMC Board held its first meeting on September 12, 2003. The Criminal Justice Commission primarily provides staff support, but an additional seven local government employees also contribute time assisting with the DMC project. Beginning in 2004, the Board will review detention data and select a target community for the community-mapping phase.

TARGETED COMMUNITY ACTION PLANNING GRANT -

Louisville Metro was selected by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) as one of the first seven Targeted Community Action Planning (TCAP) sites to receive technical assistance. TCAP is a results-oriented technical assistance initiative that helps communities assess specific juvenile justice and delinquency prevention needs and assists in developing targeted responses to the most critical issues identified by community leaders. TCAP includes four phases: Diagnostic Assessment, Problem Analysis, Response Development, and Response Implementation. The Newburg community was selected to participate in the project. A TCAP Steering Committee held its first meeting on November 11, 2003, and will begin collecting juvenile justice system data and participating in interviews with key community leaders in 2004.

JAIL POLICY COMMITTEE - Local criminal justice practitioners have attempted to monitor the Louisville-Jefferson County jail population, but have been unable to identify all of the contributing factors or to identify immediate responses that may be effective in reducing crowding. Therefore, Louisville Metro Government requested on-site technical assistance from the National Institute of Corrections (NIC) to aid in reviewing and developing systemic approaches to jail population management in Louisville Metro. The National Institute of Corrections provides assistance to local communities in identifying and implementing solutions to organizational and operational problems. NIC on-site technical assistance will assist Louisville Metro in developing an ongoing analytical capability to better understand how changes in criminal justice policy impact the use of the jail and what new programs or services may be indicated.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE PREVENTION COORDINATING COUNCIL (DVPCC) - Staff continued to provide assistance to the Louisville-Jefferson County Metro Domestic Violence Prevention Coordinating Council and its three committees, the Interagency Committee, the Mortality Review Committee, and the Children Who Witness Domestic Violence Committee. All Committees meet bi-monthly to address systemic problems and service gaps. These forums have been credited with many positive policy and procedural changes, such as the formation of the Police/Advocate Team Approach and the centralized Domestic Violence Intake Center.

The ELDER ABUSE SERVICES COORDINATING COMMITTEE, with staff support from the Criminal Justice Commission, continued its role as facilitator of coordination and collaboration among local elder abuse service providers. A grant from the Violence Against Women Office was received that will aid the Committee in sponsoring multi-disciplinary training events. In addition, Committee members assisted in the drafting of legislation for the 2004 General Assembly that, if passed, will improve accountability and data collection efforts for those social service and criminal justice system agencies involved in cases of elder abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation.

PLANNING AND COORDINATING COUNCIL - Continued staff support to the Kentucky Supreme Court-established Planning and Coordinating Council (PCC). The PCC provides oversight of practice and procedure for the local courts system.

WARRANT PROCESS COMMITTEE - Continued to provide staff and research support to the Criminal Justice Commission Warrant Process Committee. Partnering agencies continued to meet and discuss/recommend options in an attempt to alleviate the backlog of outstanding local warrants as well as improve the process of handling new warrants and summonses. Maintained warrant database within the Commission which provides a local repository of warrant-related information revealing the warrant status within Louisville and Jefferson County.

DATABASE ACTIVITIES - Staff updated and modified database applications to assist the Metro Narcotics Unit in organizing and maintaining detailed drug-related information in a modern data management system.

Continued to provide fiscal oversight for the Street Sales Enforcement Grant in partnership with the Metro Narcotics Unit and the Narcotics Special Prosecution Unit of the Commonwealth's Attorney's Office. Compiled and distributed the Commission's Drug, Alcohol, and Violent Crime Database 14th Annual Report outlining local criminal justice-related statistical information on the incidence and nature of crime in this community. This was the final Database report published by the Commission. After completion of this final report, the Louisville Metro Police Department assumed fiscal and personnel oversight (Sharon Brite, Coordinator and Russ Stapleton, Analyst) of the Street Sales Enforcement Project.

The COMPUTERIZATION PROJECTS COMMITTEE continued its implementation of a pilot Electronic Citation Project. The project's purpose is to demonstrate the electronic transmission of citation data to local criminal justice agencies. Once completed, all key entities will have the ability to read and share approved data from other information systems.

PROJECT SAFE NEIGHBORHOODS GRANT - In 2000, the U.S. Attorney, Western District of Kentucky, partnered with local criminal justice system agencies to form a Project Backfire program within Jefferson County. The purpose of this program is to provide consistency and aggressive enforcement of existing laws governing the illegal possession and/or use of a firearm. Since that time, Project Backfire programs have been initiated and implemented in three other jurisdictions within the Western District of Kentucky (Owensboro, Paducah, and Bowling Green). With the assistance of our local U.S. Attorney, the Criminal Justice Commission has acted as fiscal agent for the federal Project Safe Neighborhoods Grant programs that have allowed for the continuation/ expansion of the Project Backfire programs as well as the implementation of comprehensive multidisciplinary collaborative approaches in response to those who commit firearm-related crimes.

CRIME AND JUSTICE SHOW – In its 22nd year of continuous production, three 30-minute episodes of the "Crime and Justice" series were developed, produced by the Fire Training Academy, Louisville Fire and Rescue, and aired on public access Metro TV Channel 25 under the direction of Special Advisor, Tom Atkins. The episodes produced during 2003 included the shows listed below:

Louisville Metro Criminal Justice Commission New Name Better Reflects Commission's Broad Mission

Louisville (Courier-Journal, April 25, 2003) - Reflecting its mission to represent the entire criminal justice system, the Louisville Metro Crime Commission has changed its name.

The commission's new name is the Louisville Metro Criminal Justice Commission. The name change was approved Thursday by the Louisville Metro Council. The commission, which has been in operation for 36 years, conducts planning, research and system-wide coordination of criminal justice initiatives.

The commission's executive director, David Nicholson, said the old name - with the word "crime" highlighted - confused people who associated the commission with only the police or corrections departments. "We're a strategic planning agency for the entire criminal justice system in our community," Nicholson said. "The name change better reflects that comprehensive mission."

The commission, with five staff members, provides planning support for more than 25 committees, task forces and work groups involved with criminal justice issues. In that capacity, staff members conduct research, organize meetings and training, and respond to requests for information.

"The Louisville Metro Criminal Justice Commission provides critical staff and research support to the criminal justice system in our community," said Mayor Jerry Abramson. "It's important that the commission's name represents the scope of the important work performed."

The commission has been instrumental in securing grant funding for several projects and programs, Nicholson said. Currently, the commission is providing staff support for the EMS and Arson Consolidation Task Forces and the Citizens Commission on Police Accountability, among others.
